

Why I'm here:
Pulled through a Dredge

Patient : Terra-Tiger
Species : Green Sea Turtle
Latin Name: Chelonia mydas
Age : Juvenile
Gender : Unknown
Weight : 8.8 lbs / 4.0 kg
Found : Jacksonville, FL
Arrived : December 5, 2011
Rescued by : U.S. Army Corp of Engineers

Exam Findings:

Eyelids swollen shut

Swollen neck with skin removal, scab formation

Severe lethargy, shock

Anterior carapace: Small fracture

Diagnostic Results:

X-Rays: Normal

TREATMENT FOR: Terra-Tiger

Iron supplement: Anemia

Ceftazidime: Antibiotic

Itraconazole: Antifungal

Fluid therapy

Wound care: Cleaning, debridement, silver sulfadiazine cream

PRESCRIBED: DR. NORTON, DVM
(MAY BE PREVIOUS OR CURRENT)

Current Weight:

888 LBS

Fun Fact: A dredge is a device used to reshape the seabed by scraping and/or suction of the bedding materials by means of a large vacuum system.

